Rubber tubing

Reasons to choose Silclear:

Hygienic

Silclear does not crack, erode or perish, or become porous, and does not support bacterial growth. Silclear is a totally different material to conventional rubber. It is not degraded by light, air, dairy cleaning chemicals, or milk-stone remover. Silclear meets all EC and international hygiene standards. The smooth internal and external surfaces are easy to clean and sterilise, helping to reduce your TBC's.

Quality Silicone for Long Life

Silclear blend and process specially formulated high grade medical silicones optimised for maximum strength, tear resistance and optical clarity. Different formulations are used for different Silclear products, which means that each product has the best possible material properties for the job. Careful control of all manufacturing parameters, and good production practices ensure that all Silclear products are of the highest quality. Silclear is accredited with quality standard ISO9002.

Silclear conforms to, or exceeds the requirements of all relevant industry standards, including: FDA 177.2600, BGA XV Part A:Silicone, US Pharmacopoeia XXI, BS6920, 3-A Standard, EC Directive 93/8, EC Directive 82/711, Knife & Fork Standard.

The visual clarity enables easy monitoring of milk and vacuum lines for cleanliness and milking equipment maintenance.

Flexible and Strong

Silclear is flexible, easy to install and does not become stiff or brittle, even below freezing to minus -70°C! It is not deteriorated by UV light, ozone or temperatures up to 170°C. As Silclear tubing is lighter than conventional rubber tube, pull on the cluster is lessened, reducing slippage, and improving teat contact. The proven durability means that Silclear will give you a host of benefits at a lower overall cost.

Extensive Product Range

It is possible to fit Silclear throughout the milking parlour, from the cow through to the tank!
